Bi10 - Decima Biennale dell'immagine Borderlines

Città divise / Città plurali

Chiasso, October 7 - December 10

The Biennale dell'immagine returns, and once again, faithful to its ambition to provide a moment of reflection on contemporary living, it sets out to investigate a theme of great current relevance. Never before have cities been so much at the centre of our everyday news, shaken by terrorist attacks and social tensions, the destinations of major population flows, witnessing and fostering an imbalanced distribution of wealth, weighed up against the limits of their own development and the crucial changes that have shaped our era.

Musical Weeks in Ascona

Ascona, until October 17

The Musical Weeks in Ascona, the oldest classical music festival in Ticino, celebrates a 72nd edition. The total thirteen festival concerts offered take place at three attractive venues: the Collegio Pappio di Ascona church for the chamber concerts, the church of San Francesco (church of St. Francis) in Locarno for the symphonic concerts and the Sopracenerina hall for the two matinee performances in the Début Series that presents young talents on the brink of great international careers.

Directed for the fifth consecutive year by Francesco Piemontesi, presentations in Ascona this year emphasise on the music world of Russia - home to great composers and acclaimed performers, celebrated above all for their expressive and virtuous qualities.

Street Art. Da Basquiat a Banksy, i Re della Strada

Melano, Artrust

October 8 - December 16

The new exhibition that Artrust sets up in its own spaces sees as the protagonists the great names of the history of graffiti and of the current Street Art. In the frame of the exhibition, the Swiss street artist duo Nevercrew makes a wall work on the exterior wall of the building hosting the show. At the same time, Artrust takes care of the exhibition "Atlantis" by the Italian artist Raul33, set up on 13 October at the Gipsoteca Giudici di Lugano.

Mostra Honoré Daumier (1808-1879)

Bellinzona, Museo Villa dei Cedri

Until January 7, 2018

The social point of view of Honoré Daumier, among the fathers of realism, illustrates with a bitter satire the field of politics and courts, the development of the city and the gods of modern society. The artist was also a great disseminator of ideas, a journalist who used the image instead of the word, with his satire in the form of political vignettes.
